

“Mastering General Chemistry” Online Homework System

Thank you all for class testing the online homework system “MasteringGeneralChemistry (MGC)”. As a result of your participation, you have enhanced the program, ensuring that the publisher meets their standard of coaching at least 85% of students to the final, correct answer by providing responses specific to the answers they submitted.

Now that the semester is finished, the publisher would like you to fill out a brief online survey. Your feedback on MGC helps improve the program for future students. The survey is online at the following link:

Please be candid about your experience and let them know ways the program can be improved.

Thanks!
